

High Functioning Management System: Creating the Non-Negotiable Architecture for Success

Unprecedented change and challenges are facing organizations across all industries. According to a recent Wall Street Journal article, 57% of employees in the United States feel disconnected at work. “Red Cape-Heroic” leadership can be necessary in managing a crisis, but it cannot become the perpetuating force driving change in the organization.

How do leaders create the culture to connect employees to the business and the organization?

Many organizations have people coming back to work after being virtual or hybrid for two years. Now is the time to “LEAN INTO” the non-negotiable systems and processes required to move from a position of Defense to Offense both organizationally and from a leadership execution standpoint.

In this seminar, participants will learn how to create the non-negotiable architecture for success.
